'Tis the Season

Procrastination. According to Wikipedia: in psychological terms, procrastination is defined as the act of replacing more urgent actions with tasks less urgent, or doing something from which one derives enjoyment, and thus putting off impending tasks to a later time. In accordance with Freud, the pleasure principle may be responsible for procrastination; humans prefer avoiding negative emotions, and delaying a stressful task. The concept that humans work best under pressure provides additional enjoyment and motivation to postponing a task. In layman's terms, "procrastination" means waiting until the last minute to do something. Sound familiar now?

Fair season seems to be a time of procrastination. I'm ashamed to say, procrastination became common practice in our house growing up when it came to 4-H sewing projects, notebooks and record books. These were tasks my sisters and I didn't think were much fun. It seemed the older we got, the more responsibility we had for our projects and the more we procrastinated. I can remember the stress we felt as we got closer and closer to our deadlines. After the fact, we jokingly said we worked better under pressure.

I recall the county fair with fond memories. However, sometimes the weeks leading up to the fair, weren't so fun. Sometimes there was yelling and even tears in our house. I can only imagine the stress our parents felt. Somehow, we always got our project done and the fair went off without a hitch.

Does any of this sound familiar to you? I challenge you to have a more stress-free fair this year. Your first step is to get those fair pre-entries submitted on time! This year we are using an online entry system. We know the fairbook can be confusing, especially if you are new to 4-H. Calling or coming in early to get your questions answered helps you to feel more at ease that you completed the process correctly. Waiting to have your questions answered until July 3rd (the deadline) could result in a long wait in the Extension Office and increased anxiety for you.

Start the fair season off right. Get your projects completed in a timely manner and submit your entries on time or early.

Do-Rag Sunday

Madison Sultz will raising funds for Lexi's Lamb Foundation to help children fight a variety of illnesses and diseases. The bandanas will be available for purchase ($3) starting July 15th at the Extension Office or the 4-H Foodstand during the fair. We encourage you to wear your bandana/do-rag on Sunday August 4th, at the fair. Madison greatly appreciates your support!

Lexi's LAMB Foundation is always striving to bring a smile to a child's face.

No parent, family member, or friend hopes to have a sick child or a child with special needs. Everyone just wants a healthy and happy child. When faced with the challenge of having a child who wasn't completely healthy, the only choice we saw was to meet the challenge head on.

Working through the challenges we faced helped us realize that we were given a new mission in life. That mission was to help other families who face similar obstacles. We want to help by providing support to these families. Sometimes the only thing needed is a prayer and someone to talk to. Other times a toy or a stuffed animal will bring a smile to the child's face.

Get Help with Your Swine Project!

Do you have questions about caring for swine, facility options, or feed requirements? If so contact your Cowley County Swine Project Leaders Brian and Vickie Thiel at 620-222-5154.

Breeding Livestock

All Commercial Breeding livestock will be required to have a Cowley County issued Kansas 4-H eartag for 2019. This includes Breeding Heifers, Commercial Ewes, Breeding Does and Breeding Gilts. Commercial breeding animals must also have a breeding animal affidavit on file in the Extension Office.

Lost Tag Policy

When an animal loses a tag, the exhibitor must contact the Cowley County Extension Office in writing as soon as said tag is noticed to be missing. Include the following information: Specie, previous tag number, breed, sex of animal and statement verifying that the animal is the same animal that was tagged at the official tagging day. Ear tags that are lost after the pre-entry deadline must still be submitted in writing to the Extension Office, but will be handled on a case by case basis.

Poultry Testing

Due to a nationwide shortage of antigen needed to conduct pullorum-typhoid testing in poultry, the Kansas Department of Agriculture Division of Animal Health is waiving certain poultry testing requirements. As a result, 4-H poultry exhibitors will not be required to test their birds for the pullorum disease, or have leg bands, for the 2019 Cowley County Fair.

Livestock Showing Resources

Are you trying out a new livestock project this year? Looking for tips and tools for showing as you prepare for the fair? The Kansas State University Youth Livestock page has links for showmanship resources at <https://www.asi.k-state.edu/research-and-extension/youth-programs/educational-materials.html> You may also contact Kelsey at the Extension Office or one of our livestock project superintendents with specific questions.

Why do livestock judges place the classes the way they do???

The livestock judging contest at the fair is a great place to learn why your animal was placed the way it was, and prepare you to select your livestock for the future.

Did you know you don't have to be enrolled in a livestock project to participate in Livestock Judging? The Cowley County Fair Livestock Judging Contest is a great way for beginners to learn how to evaluate livestock.

To sign up, come to the show arena Monday, August 5 from 8:00-8:30am. Bring a notebook and pencil.

The Fair: A Great Opportunity to Model Good Livestock Stewardship

The fair is fun, exciting and busy for our livestock exhibitors. We want to encourage everyone that caring for livestock at the fair is a little different than caring for them at home. Most of our livestock have free access to water at home. This is not the case at the fair, and, because the weather during the fair is typically hot, it is vital that exhibitors water their livestock multiple times during the day. Even if you give your birds or rabbits a water bottle, you need to check their water often. Fair visitors notice when livestock (particularly poultry) are not watered and report it to the fair office. Please be sure to model good livestock stewardship by providing fresh, clean water to your animals frequently during the fair.

Exhibitors should also take extra care during the fair to keep their livestock, stalls/pens and the alleyways clean. One particular area that gets extremely messy is Bucket Calf. Bucket Calf exhibitors, please make sure your calves are clean, tied securely (we don't need any calves on the loose or tangled up) and that their stalls are cleaned. Those little calves can make a BIG mess. If you have questions about how/when/what to do with your livestock during the fair, do not hesitate to contact the Cowley County Extension Office or your fair superintendent.

Livestock Superintendents

Our Livestock Superintendents serve during the fair to make sure that animals get checked in, classes get posted, shows run smoothly, livestock are marked correctly for the sale, and SO.MUCH.MORE. Our superintendents are here to help. If you have specific questions about how things work in your department, please be sure to ask one of them.

Use your Freezer to Preserve your Sanity!

To help save time and stress at county fairs, prepare food entries early and freeze them. Most baked goods freeze well and can still be top ribbon quality. Here are some tips:

- Bake and cool completely! This helps prevent condensation inside the wrapping and development of ice crystals.
- Use moisture-vapor resistant packaging such as freezer-safe plastic containers or bags, and rigid containers.
- Separate layers of cookies with wax paper or parchment paper.
- Freeze cakes or breads un-frosted and frost after thawed.
- Make pie crusts ahead of time and freeze.
- Thaw all baked goods in the freezer packaging. They can be thawed at room temperature. Remove from the freezer the night before the fair. Once thawed, repackage according to fair rules.

Always wash your hands...

- Before touching food or clean surfaces
- After you touch food
- If you touch your face, touch your eyes, touch your hair, blow your nose, take out garbage or go to the bathroom
- If you handle money (money is covered in germs!)
- If you use your phone (cell phones are covered in germs!)

Germ Farm

Food Safety at the Food Stand- Food Handlers Training

All clubs are strongly encouraged to send club members and parents to the food safety training, if they have not attended before. Club members will have hands-on activities to emphasize the importance of food safety. Call 221-5450 to register!

Foodstand Team Leaders

Each 4-H Club is required to have a Team Leader during the club's food stand shift at the Cowley County Fair. This is a change from the traditional shift manager and is vital to the success of the 4-H Foodstand. Team leaders are responsible for the following:

- Communicating with Foodstand Manager to understand the menu and duties for the shift
- Assigning tasks to workers
- Communicating menu and tasks to workers
- Monitoring and recording temperatures for hot food, freezers and coolers
- Cleaning and sanitizing equipment and prep areas
- Overseeing food preparation and ensuring safe food handling

4-H Foodstand Schedule

The money raised in the Food Stand is used to support our 4-H programs through scholarships to state 4-H events, transportation to county camp and Discovery Days, volunteer development awards and recognition at Achievement Night, officer training and much more. Here is the schedule of workers for the Food Stand at the Cowley County Fair. A Thursday evening shift is staffed by 4-H alumni. However, current 4-H families are welcome and encouraged to work during this time. (especially if you have a conflict with your club's scheduled time.)

Please assign at least 5 adults to each shift. They are needed to run the cash register, operate the grill and appliances, and help with food preparation.

Each club is REQUIRED to have a team leader. The person must be a responsible adult or teen. Team Leaders should recruit workers, and submit a list of workers to the Extension Office by July 25th.
