If you’ve been reading these articles the last several months, you may be picking up a common theme. That theme is “personal leadership”. Over the last year, I have been introduced to the series of books on developing personal leadership authored by Dr. Tim Elmore called, “Habitudes”. The series has great lessons called images that help us to invest in and develop our personal leadership.

What is a leader and why is developing one’s personal leadership important? Is everyone a leader? Well, that depends on how you define the word, “leader”. If you are referring to a person who is in charge of a group or in a position of power, then, no, everyone is not a leader. Not every person is born with the natural ability to occupy the top spot in a flow chart. If leadership is defined as people pursuing a “passion” in their life and, in doing so, influencing others; finding an area of strength and naturally influencing others in a positive way, then yes, we can all be leaders.

Each individual possesses innate strengths and talents. We master a skill or gift. Those gifts can be used to positively influence others. If leadership is about “serving others in the area of our natural abilities and passions”, we predictably assert influence and we do not even have to try to “lead”.

In 4-H, we use the words, “leader” and “leadership” alot. We have project leaders, community leaders, junior leaders. We have the Leadership project and 4-H members are known for their leadership skills.

We develop our leadership skills to help others through community service projects and working cooperatively within our clubs, committees and groups.

Do you have to be in charge of someone or a group to be a leader? No. Being a leader is “using my influence for a worthwhile cause”. In this way, all 4-H members and volunteers are leaders. Because we work together to “Make the Best Better”, we all serve in a leadership capacity. We all possess different gifts and skills that help us in service to others. It is important that we continue to develop these gifts and use them to positively influence the world around us.

“I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, my country and my world.”

Upcoming Meetings

The Cowley County Extension Council Executive Board meets monthly and conducts the business of the Extension Office. The March meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 3rd at 5:30 p.m. in the Assembly Room of the Cowley County Courthouse, 311 E. 9th Ave., Winfield.

4-H Council and Junior Leaders will meet Monday, March 16th. 4-H Council will meet from 7:00 p.m. - 7:45 p.m. Junior Leaders will begin at 7:50 p.m. If you were selected to represent your club at 4-H Council and find you cannot attend, please let your leaders know and find another member to serve in your place.

4-H Supporter's Week is March 15th-21st. Supporter's Week is an opportunity for 4-H members to thank members of the community who support 4-H in a variety of ways. A 4-H Supporter is not just someone who contributes money to the 4-H program. Supporters are cheerleaders for 4-H and are interested in seeing Cowley County 4-H thrive. Supporter lists were sent to Community Leaders to be disbursed throughout the membership. You may have additional supporters you know for your club who are not included on this list. Please be sure to thank them as well.

Clubs are welcome to thank their supporters as they see fit. Many clubs have families sign up to thank supporters. It is recommended that each supporter receive some sort of "goody" (cookies, brownies, etc.) and a handwritten (by 4-H'ers) thank you note. (Special thank you cards are available at the Extension Office). Please consider that a thank you note goes above and beyond, "Thank you for supporting 4-H." Take the time to share with your supporter a little about you and what you love about 4-H. Remember that larger businesses and organizations should be given more than an individual supporter.

Flower Sales

Shooting Sports Club will be taking orders for your spring flower planting needs. Contact a Shooting Sports member to place your order.

Kansas State University College of Agriculture

The Kansas Youth Institute is a life-changing experience at Kansas State University where high school students engage with local leaders and experts on critical global challenges, participate in hands-on activities, and explore exciting ways to make a difference in Kansas and around the world. Students research issues they care about, and propose their ideas to solve these grand challenges.

The Kansas Youth Institute is hosted by Kansas State University with the generous support of the College of Agriculture.

Why participate?

Students who participate in the Kansas Youth Institute earn a $500 scholarship to the Kansas State University College of Agriculture, recognition as a Borlaug Scholar, and qualify for internships and further opportunities.

At this exciting event, participating high school students have the opportunity to:

- Present research and recommendations on ways to solve key global challenges in a short speech and small group discussions with statewide experts;
- Connect with other student leaders from across Kansas to share ideas, identify solutions to these problems and build lasting friendships;
- Explore the issues, current research and opportunities to make a difference at Kansas State University; and
- Interact with global leaders, innovators and entrepreneurs in Kansas working to end hunger and poverty and improve food security around the world.

Papers will be evaluated by The World Food Prize Board of Reviewers. This distinguished group of educators and experts was established to mentor and personally encourage students. Reviewers write thoughtful, personalized feedback to each student who participates in the Youth Institute.

How to participate:

To participate in the Kansas Youth Institute, students research a global issue and write a three page paper under the supervision of a teacher or mentor (using the downloadable guidelines above).

Ninth through twelfth grade students in the 2019/20 school year are eligible to apply.

Registration and paper submission due online by: March 7, 2020.

There is no registration cost to participate in the Institute and meals will be provided during the event. However, both student and teacher/mentor participants must organize their own transportation to and from the event in Manhattan, KS.
